

My Little Weekly / Wednesday September 18th 2019

A LA UNE

A big new bridge soon for wild animals

The biggest wildlife bridge in the world will be built near Los Angeles (US) by 2023. It will help mountain lions (photo), deer, snakes and other local wild animals to cross a busy motorway.

DID YOU KNOW

There are less and less mountain lions.
This bridge will help them to meet and to breed.

bridge - landscape - lorry - motorway - car - road - roadsign

PHOTO OF THE WEEK

Last week, a small airplane crashed into Maricopa airport (US) after its takeoff.
The 2 people on board were injured.

