

les boucles

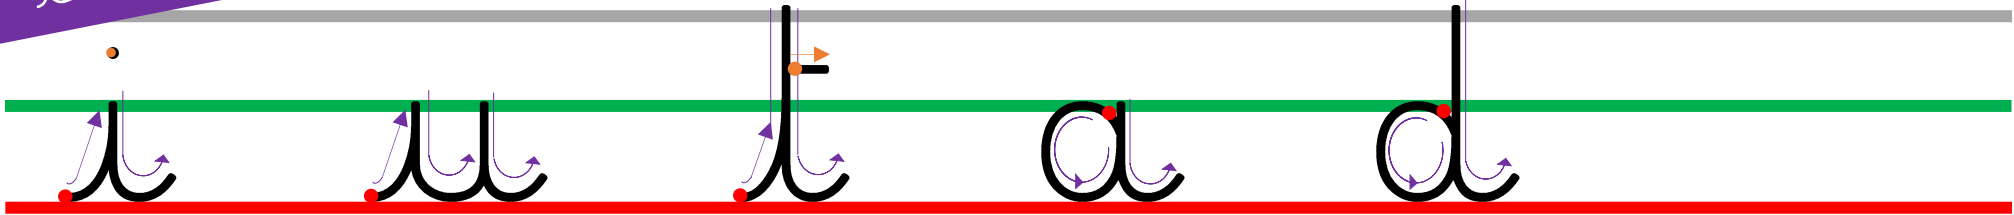

A row of six cursive letters: e, l, f, b, h, and k. Each letter is written on a set of four horizontal lines (black top, blue middle, green middle, red bottom). Small red dots indicate the starting point of the stroke, and purple arrows show the direction of the pen strokes. The letter 'f' is unique as it extends below the red line.

les ronds

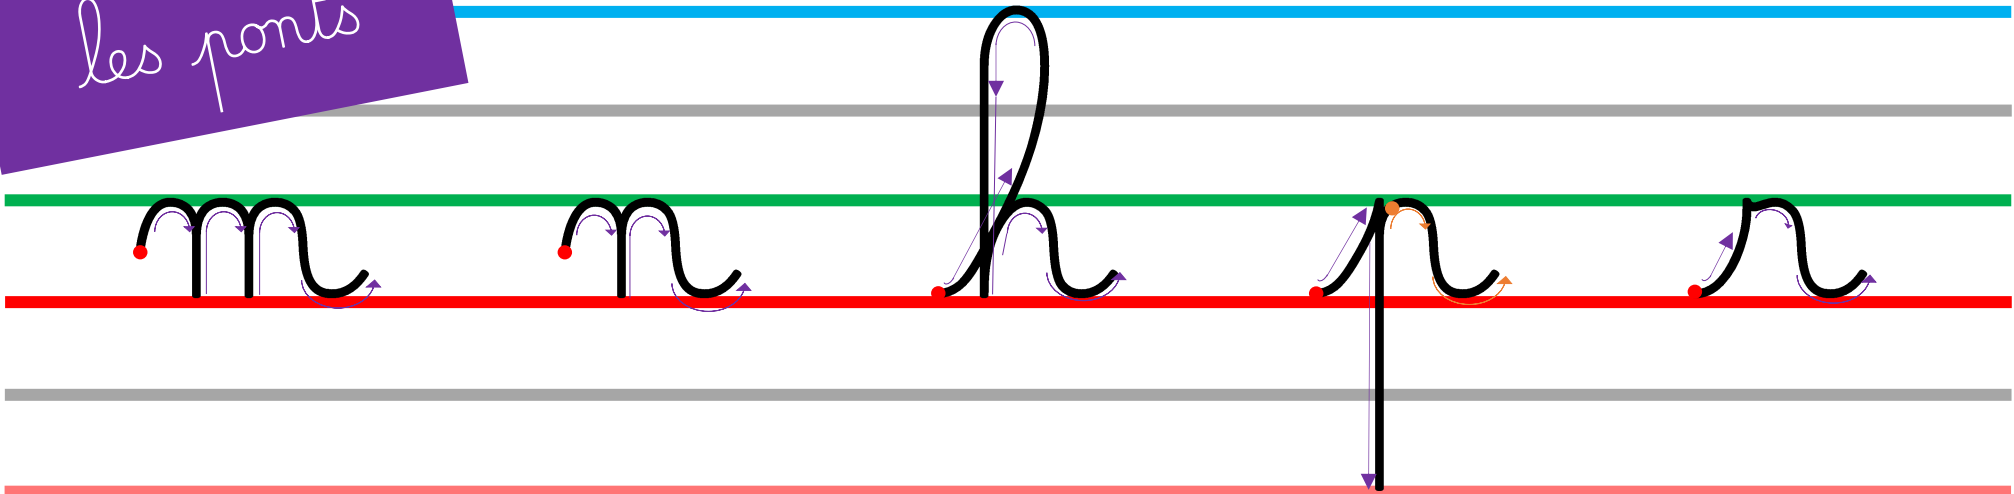

A row of six cursive letters: c, a, d, q, g, and o. Each letter is written on a set of four horizontal lines (black top, blue middle, green middle, red bottom). Small red dots indicate the starting point of the stroke, and purple arrows show the direction of the pen strokes. The letter 'd' has a vertical stem starting from the blue line. The letter 'q' has a vertical stem extending to the red line. The letter 'g' has a vertical stem extending below the red line.
