TAKE A VACATION

THAT TAKES YOU
BACK IN TIME.

Long before the modern day gaming halls were built, Deadwood was known as a lawless town run by infamous gamblers and gunslingers. Bars, brothels and gaming halls made up this tiny town in the Black Hills of South Dakota that was home to legendary characters like Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane.

While men like Sheriff Seth Bullock and Mayor E.B. Farnum tried to tame the town, the outlaw spirit never really died. Today, when you stand on Historic Main Street you're transported back to a wilder time... when whiskey ruled and gamblers took a chance just walking down the street.

SEE HOW THE WEST WAS REALLY WON.

With ongoing restoration, Deadwood is being transformed back into the frontier town that once drew legends and legions in search of their fortune. The entire town is a registered National Historic Landmark. But don't let that fool you—behind all the historic facades is plenty of modern-day fun.

Our world-class gaming halls have $100 bet limits and feature luxury accommodations and some of the finest cuisine anywhere. Play slots or try your luck at one of our blackjack, Three-card, or Texas Hold'em tables.

♦ SIT WHERE ♦ WILD BILL SAT AND LIVE TO TELL ABOUT IT.

The Dakota Territory was a fairly uninhabited place until gold was discovered in 1874 by Colonel George Armstrong Custer's expedition.

That discovery set off a rush of fortune seekers looking to strike it rich. The first gold was found near the present day city of Custer in the Southern Hills, but the creeks and mines yielded little treasure.

In 1876, miners moved into the Northern Black Hills. That's where they came across a gulch full of dead trees and a creek full of gold... and Deadwood was born.

WILD BILL

Mount Moriah

Practically overnight, the tiny gold camp boomed into a town that played by its own rules. It attracted outlaws, gamblers and gunslingers along with the gold prospectors. Wild Bill Hickok was one of those men who came looking for fortune. But just a few short weeks after arriving, he was gunned down holding a poker hand of aces and eights. And so began the legend of the Deadman's Hand. Only in Deadwood can you relive that infamous moment. Every day during the summer, you can see the shooting of Wild Bill and the Trial of Jack McCall (the man who shot him) reenacted right where it happened.

WHERE WILD AND WEST FIRST MET.

Historic Deadwood has plenty of fun for the whole family. You can see Wild Bill's six-shooter or visit his gravesite next to Calamity Jane. You can pan for real gold or just walk through town and see the places where men and women became legends. Along with our historic attractions, Deadwood is also surrounded by natural beauty. Tucked in the heart of the Black Hills, you can hike, mountain bike or enjoy motorcycle rides on our scenic byways. Our lakes and streams are an angler's paradise and our expansive trail system is ideal for adventure seekers. In the winter, Deadwood has just as much to offer with cross country and downhill skiing, sledding or snowmobiling. Every season here is full of legendary fun!

MEMORIES. BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE.

If you're looking for a modern-day western adventure, you can find that here too. Throughout the year, the city plays host to rodeos, festivals and world-class concert events that draw big name performers like Big & Rich. From the Days of '76 to Wild Bill Days and Kool Deadwood Nights, you can release your inner outlaw in a town that's still wild at heart.

A PLACE YOU HAVE TO SEE TO BELIEVE.

Deadwood is one of many unique attractions you'll find in South Dakota. Home of Mount Rushmore National Memorial, here you can stare America's history in the face or listen to your heart pound as you watch 1,500 wild buffalo crest a hill in Custer State Park.

Unimaginable scenery spans the state—from the majestic hills in the west to the rolling prairies in the east. Intrigue and mystery dot the landscape from Badlands National Park to Sica Hollow.

We have a strong Wild West heritage, rich Native American culture and pioneer spirit that makes South Dakota a place you have to see to believe. Visit the land of Great Faces and Great Places and capture the spirit of America.
