

This picture shows the day when Prince William got married to Kate Middleton. It is a traditional wedding with a white dress.

Gleeden.com is a website aimed at (destiné à) married people who want to have an affair. An affair is a secret relationship with someone who is not your husband or wife. Consequently, they will cheat on (tromper) their partner.

This text is an article from the online newspaper NZ Herald, which reveals the results of a survey (=enquête) on marriage and extra-marital affairs. It turns out that (=il s'avère que) cheating is quite common (=plutôt courant). According to (selon) this survey, people's reaction to cheating (l'infidélité) depends on their age.

Meetmuslimsingles.com is a website dedicated specifically to Muslim singles (célibataires) who want to meet someone in order to get married. It is not a dating (de rencontre) website like Meetic, for instance.

This video is an extract from the British TV show « Skins », in which Anwar, a British teenager of Pakistani origin, is at his birthday party. Suddenly, his uncle announces that Anwar will be married to a stranger. After a stressful silence, the uncle laughs and says that it was only a joke, there will be no arranged marriage.