LOGICOTURPI : Rules

1. Material

- A game board for each player according to its level (green : level 1, blue : level 2, red : level 3)
- a bag of pawns (three different criteria : color, shape, filling)
- a bag of points

2. Number of players

   2 to 4

3. The game goal

   To win the most points

4. How to play

   Each player take a game board according to its level. Each in turn draws a pawn and places it on the first white line of his board, starting from the bottom. On the next turn, he takes a pawn and puts it on the first line too. But two pawns can only be next to each other if they have one different criterion (color, shape, or filling) for the first level, two for the second and three for the third, under , on the left and on the right. Once a line is complete, the player receives the amount of points specified on the left of the line. If a player can't put a pawn, he has to put it on the gray line. Each time, he files the gray line, he can clear it and he looses 2 points.
   In order to start filling the next line, the player must first complete the current line.
   In the end of the game, the player who has the most points wins. The games ends for every player once one of the player complete his last line. Once one player is stuck, he is out of the game.
