

This humpback whale needs help !

This young humpback whale got entangled in over 30 metres of fishing line near the Hawaiian island of Maui (United States). Rescuers helped to free one of its flippers on 9th March.

DID YOU KNOW

According to some scientists, up to 12,000 humpback whales swim in Hawaiian waters from November to May. They go there to give birth and take care of their babies.

back - tail - knot - fishing line - flipper - water - humpback whale

PHOTO OF THE WEEK

On Sunday, this road near Sydney, Australia, was covered with water. Heavy rains caused the worst flooding in the area in about 50 years.

