

Strange men are dangerous...

It was the 4th of July. Jack Powel, an American teenager was waiting for his girlfriend, Alice on the Golden Gate Bridge. They were 19 years old. They wanted to have a picnic on the beach. Ten minutes later, Alice arrived. They met on the bridge and they went to the beach. They sat on the sand. Their picnic started.

They were eating bacon and egg sandwiches and they were chatting at the same time. But, the couple saw a strange man : he was tall and slim. He had a short beard and an earring on his left ear. He was hiding behind a tree and he was looking at them with binoculars.

Suddenly, the man came to them, he stood in front of the couple and asked if he could eat with them. Alice and Jack said no. The strange man got angry, he took kicked Jack and dragged him on the floor. Then he knocked Alice out. She fainted. When she woke up, Alice was scared but she ran after him. She found him at the top of the cliff. She attacked him and she pushed him off the cliff.
