

A cursive lowercase letter 'a' is shown on a set of four horizontal lines (two blue lines in the middle and two purple lines on the outside). The letter is black. A green dot is placed at the top of the letter, from which a green arrow curves counter-clockwise to form the bowl of the 'a'. A second green dot is placed at the top of the vertical stem, from which a green arrow points straight down to the bottom purple line.

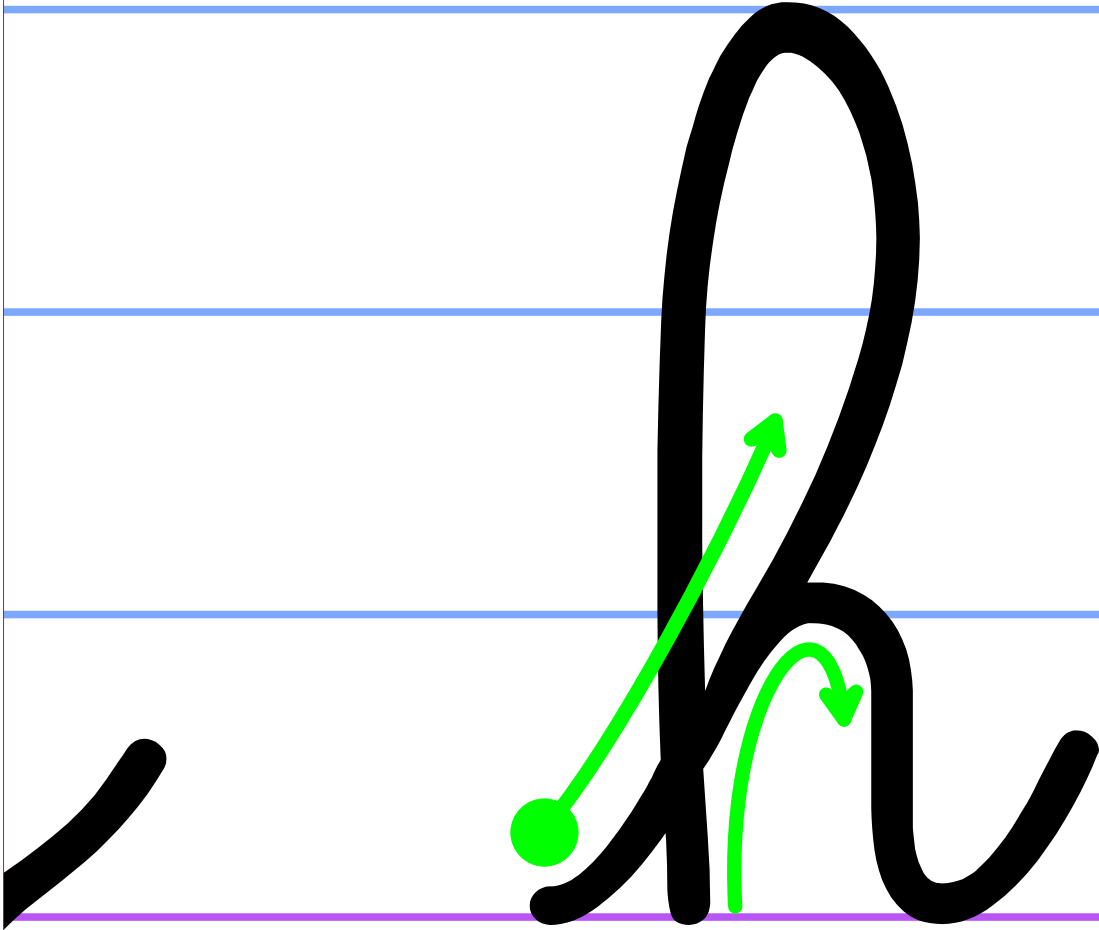

A cursive lowercase letter 'k' is shown on the same set of four horizontal lines. The letter is black. A green dot is placed at the bottom of the letter, from which a green arrow curves upwards and to the right, following the path of the letter's stem.

A handwriting practice sheet featuring a vertical red line on the left and several horizontal lines. The top and bottom lines are purple, while the intermediate lines are blue. On the left side, the cursive letters 'n' and 'e' are written in black. Green arrows indicate the stroke order: a curved arrow for the top of the 'n', a downward arrow for the stem, and a circular arrow for the 'e'.
